Class Officers

Dear Class of 2017,

On behalf of your class officers, we would like to say congratulations on this momentous occasion. Throughout the past four years you not only were able to make achievements in sports and academics but you also helped us reach our goals for fundraisers to create even more memories. As we start the new chapters in our lives let's not forget to look back and remember where it all started. These four years were full of laughter and excitement. From winning the super bowl sophomore year, taking trips to other countries, and many many more. We hope you all go out into the world and take advantage of what life has to offer. Thank you class of 2017.

The time has come for us to depart. It may feel like the end but it's only the start. It's our time to leave and use all that we have learned, as we venture away from high school and into this big unfamiliar world. We say our goodbyes and we cry our last tears. We'll take all these pictures that will last us for years. We'll look back on the drama and look back on the fights. We'll laugh it all off because we're going on with life.

There we are in our neat lined-up rows, in our caps and gowns anxiously waiting to be let go. Our names are called and we finally approach the stage. As we look upon the audience we all of a sudden become very afraid. But then it goes away as we come closer and closer to our goal. We're finally going to graduate and go into the world with all we know. Let's all at once throw our caps in the air. Let's all at once scream like we don't care. We did it, we're done! Oh my goodness thank heaven! We finally made it.

Sincerely,

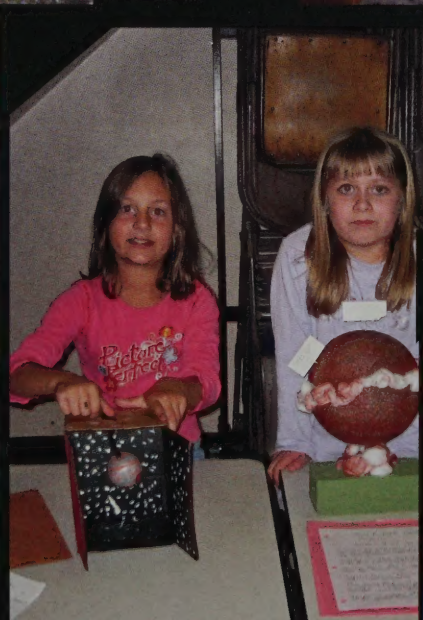

Your Class Officers

Letter From The Advisor

To The Class of 2017,

I am writing to you on our final day of editing your yearbook. As of midnight, your yearbook will be sent to production and in a matter of weeks you will be turning its pages and looking back at the last four years of your lives.

Building a yearbook is a huge undertaking. It requires countless hours and dedication from the yearbook staff. Most importantly, it requires meeting deadlines. Your yearbook editor, Lindsey Collins, has far exceeded the criteria for success. She created, built, and edited all of these pages and this yearbook is a result of her persistence. I would be remiss if I did not mention Matt Galvin and how he rose to the occasion to assist in the photography of your book. It is my hope that you will take the time to thank them for creating a book that has captured so many moments from your tenure at AHS.

You are the last graduating class to have walked the halls of this building, and like all those who came before you, your path does not end here. We expect great things from all of you.

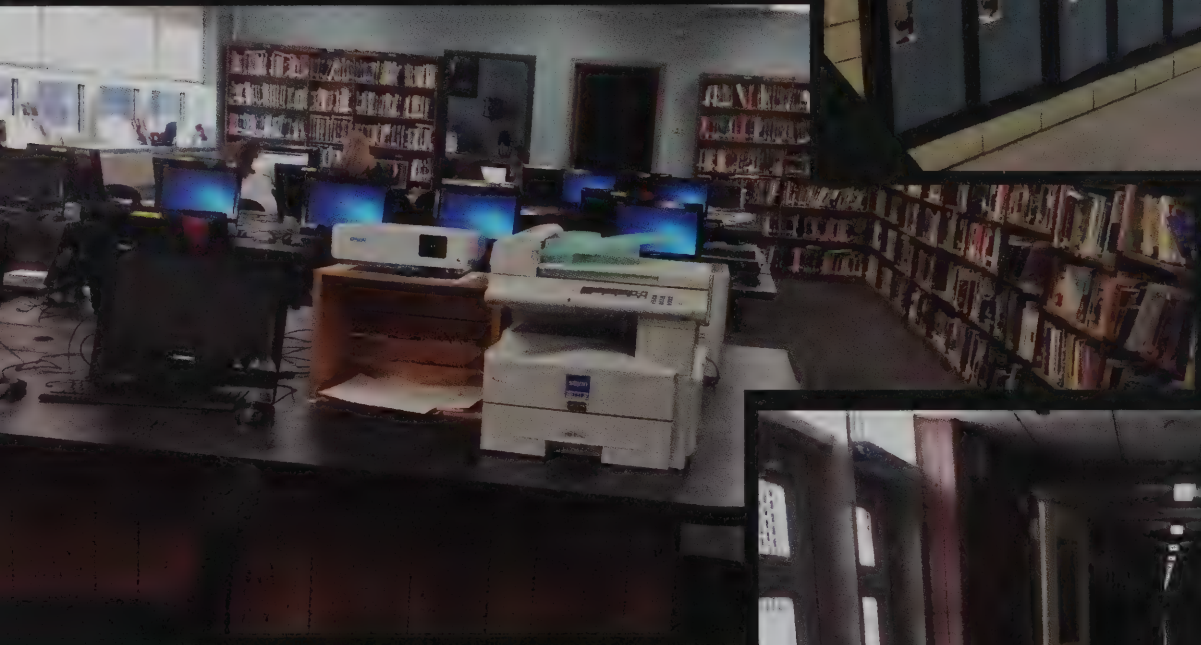

I wish you all success in your future endeavors, and a lifetime filled with happiness.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Kinsman

Remember When...

Graduation seemed so far away...

The Frisbee team won the RI Sate Championship.

We walked the relay for life as my mother fought cancer.

Dan Reynolds fell in the river behind the ECC.

Christian Berk brought a mini basketball hoop to school.

Marina Brennan and Fraser Toomey sang "Single Ladies" at the pep rally.

We got kicked out of Wendy's every Friday.

The after 8th grade semi party at Martin's Bakery.

We were taught by by Mrs. Risconi.

Olivia Whalen's car stalled in the middle of route 18 during rush hour.

Matt Galvin was the Junior High assistant coach.

Cam MacLeod and Geena McGelroy were the king and queen of the Junior Prom.

Jenny Worden scored her 1000th point in basketball.

The football team won the super bowl sophomore year.

Coach Kel locked us out of the locker room and passed notes through the door.

Mr. Moore beat Al Freeman in a game of pickup basketball.

Ashli declined a ride in a convertible because it was raining.

Katie Rust cut all her hair off.

A baby from child development was named "Noodles" for two years.

Class Prophecy

Cassie Marando will be successful in whatever she does.

Nate Blackmore will be playing NBA 2K27.

Most AHS graduates will have never left town, or will have returned to Abington.

Leah Alessi will be a nurse.

Christian Berk will design the next pair of yeesys.

Molly Donovan will be working undercover for the FBI.

Abdul Naidjate will be a successful Call Of Duty Youtuber with 5 million subscribers.

Makenzie Gardner will be the new AHS cheer coach.

Evan Fanara will still be friendzoned by Molly Donovan.

Marina Brennan will still be rawdog.

Jenny Worden will be in the WNBA.

Sarah Cochrane will marry Andrew Cardinal.

Matt Galvin will be a police officer.

Cole McMahon will still be wearing sleeveless shirts.

In 10 years...

Corinne Easton will be a cat lady.

Leah Alessi and Lindsey Collins will still be confused for each other.

Josh Martin will be in the NFL.

Abbey Brown will be a vegan with a pet chicken.

Abby Piccuito will be working at Abington Bank as a Billionaire.

Paul McNealy will own his own mechanic shop.

Andrew Godfrey will still call Scott "Skett".

Tyler Merrick will find a girlfriend.

Cade Kernan will be roaming around Boston.

Kevin O'Neil will be a gym teacher.

Will Curtin will still be making donuts.

Mike Barry will be a best selling author.

Katie Rust will be a weather Girl.

Letter From the Editor

Dear Class of 2017,

I spent countless hours creating this yearbook. A couple of times I thought I wouldn't finish it on time, but in the end I did. I had to. This year is the last year our AHS will exist. Soon the halls that we know like the back of our hand will be demolished. And not having a yearbook to tell the story of the final senior class of this building was not an option.

This yearbook is not only a memorial for our years in high school, but for our AHS as we know it. This building has been standing since 1963 and has been home to thousands of students. Thousands of cheerleaders, musicians, singers, artists, athletes, writers, and so many more. They too have put their stuff in the lockers in the hallway, ate lunch in the cafeteria, and threw their caps in the air on graduation day. But we will be the last class to throw our caps as one in the AHS gym. We the Class of 2017 will be the last seniors to rule this school. Our School. Even though this building may not stand on the boulevard next school year, it will stand in our hearts. I know that sounds cheesy, but it is true. We will remember the memories we had in our AHS. The loud laughter in the hallways, the arguments we had with our friends, the rallies in the gym, the concerts we played, the plays we performed in, the sports teams we were a part of, the tests we did not want to take, and the teachers we saw every day.

I hope to capture all those memories in this yearbook. Our memories mixed with the ones of the past when the school first opened. Then and Now. This book celebrates the life of this old school, so that even though we can no longer walk the halls after this year the memory of our AHS will live on in this book. So to the few that helped me thank you! I hope you enjoy the 2017 yearbook.

Sincerely,
Lindsey Collins

Congratulations Cassandra Marando
